SHIPPING

OVERSEA MIGRATION
OF THE
COMMONWEALTH OF AUSTRALIA
FOR THE YEAR
1906.

PREFACE.

THE returns of the Shipping of the Commonwealth of Australia for the year 1906 have been compiled from documents supplied by the Department of Trade and Customs, with the exception of particulars of "Local Shipping of Ports." The latter have in some instances been supplied by the Harbour Trusts or Marine Boards in charge of the ports concerned.

Tables I. to XXI. deal with the "Oversea Shipping" of the Commonwealth, only one entry and one clearance on each visit of a vessel to the Commonwealth being recorded, that is to say, one record of entry into the Commonwealth is made, viz., at the first port of call, and one record of clearance therefrom, viz., at the final port of departure. Repeated voyages of any vessel are, of course, included.

Table XXIV., which has not hitherto been incorporated in these returns, shews the Shipping communication of each State of the Commonwealth with overseas countries, direct and indirect, as well as with other States of the Commonwealth, together with the nationalities of the vessels concerned.

Tables XXII. and XXIII., appearing in the "Shipping Returns of 1905," have been omitted from this volume, for the reason that no comparison can be made of the relative importance of ports when the information in regard to their shipping is restricted to direct overseas ships related only to the first port of call and final port of departure. For example, mail steamers arriving from the United Kingdom and Europe, in most cases make Fremantle the first port of call, their entry being recorded at that port; and when clearing the Commonwealth such vessels are again recorded at the same port as the last port of departure. The fact that these vessels, during the interval between their entry to and clearance from the Commonwealth, have visited other ports therein, does not appear in a return of direct overseas shipping. In place of these Tables, which, it was found, led in some cases to misapprehension, another has been substituted, which seems free from such liability, viz., Table XXV., shewing the total shipping, as follows:—(a) Oversea (direct and indirect); (b) Interstate; and (c) Local—at each of the principal ports of the Commonwealth. This Table, now appearing for the first time, gives detailed results.

Complete records of the Local Shipping are not kept by the Department of Trade and Customs, for all ports; the necessary information has, however, been kindly supplied, where possible, by the officers of the several Harbour Trusts or Marine Boards. The figures, though unfortunately not complete in all particulars, may be accepted as a close approximation to the truth.

Tables XXVI. to XXXI., dealing with the Oversea Migration to and from the Commonwealth, have been compiled from documents supplied by the Trade and Customs Department. The method adopted has been to record, as arrivals, all passengers on board overseas vessels at the first port of call, and, as departures, all passengers on board at the last port of clearance within the Commonwealth. These last figures should be regarded as merely approximate.
